Description

Modular integrating sphere concept

The modular integrating sphere concept from Gigahertz-Optik offers a high flexibility level when it comes to individual configuration of integrating spheres. In addition to the various components such as port frames, baffles and sockets that can be directly mounted onto the integrating sphere, numerous port adapters with different functions are offered.

Precision test socket with a 4-pole holder

Test sockets are used for fixation and operation of lamps with standard lamp sockets. Precision test sockets have a 4-pole holder. This makes it possible to have two separate circuits, one for lamp supply and the other for measurement direct on the socket. In this method, the voltage measurement is free from voltage drops in the supply line and in the socket, which would be inevitable if measurement was performed in the supply circuit.

Precision test socket for E27 lamps

The UMLA-SHAP-E14 precision test socket has a 4-pole holder that enables precision voltage measurement on the E14 lamp socket. The test socket is attached on a pole for mounting in SHAP holders. .

More complementary products

Gigahertz-Optik offers a wide range of port adapters, light sources, radiation detectors and light meters which can be combined for various applications.

Specifications

Specification
UMLA-SHAP-E14-IS100	Precision test socket for UMSH-AP-1000 and UMSH-STEX
UMLA-SHAP-E14-IS50	Precision test socket for UMSH-AP-500
Connector	2-supply lines, 2-measurement lines
Coating	White powder coating
